Pokemon ultra sun wormhole guide

In Pokemon Ultra Sun and Moon, you'll have the opportunity to travel into Ultra Space via Ultra Wormholes, a brand new feature that wasn't available in the previous versions of the game. In this Pokemon Ultra Sun and Moon Ultra Wormholes guide, we'll be running down all the brand new Wormholes, as well as all the Pokemon that can be found within. If you instead need help with any other areas of Pokemon Ultra Sun and Moon, including how to farm money quickly and effectively, as well as complete list of all the brand new Z-Moves in the game, make sure to check out our Pokemon Ultra Sun and Moon guides walkthrough hub. Pokemon Ultra Sun and Ultra Moon Ultra Wormholes Guide After you have travelled to Ultra Megalopolis via an Ultra Wormhole as part of the story, you will be able to start exploring parts of Ultra Space. This is a small minigame that, depending on how well you do, will allow you to find and capture legendary and hard-to-find pokémon. As you travel through Ultra Space, you'll be picking up orange energy orbs. These allow you to travel further, and as a result, further distances in light years from where you started. You will also see blue energy orbs, but these slow you down and are to be avoided. You can control Solgaleo or Lunala by using motion controls, or by using the circle pad if you speak to someone in the Game Freak offices, which is located on the right of Heahea City. By travelling further through space, you increase your chances of finding rare pokémon. Pick up as many orange energy orbs as you can, and try to end your run in one of the fancier-looking warp holes. The further back you travel, the higher your odds are for catching a shiny pokémon, too. Interestingly, as shinyness is decided when you enter the warp hole, you can save and soft reset the game in order to find a shiny pokémon with a good nature and IVs. These are the pokémon that can be found in Ultra Wormholes: Pokemon Ultra Sun and Moon White Wormholes Nihilego Buzzwole (Ultra Sun only) Pheromosa (Ultra Moon only) Xurkitree Celesteela (Ultra Moon only) Kartana (Ultra Sun only) Guzzlord Pokemon Ultra Sun and Moon Blue Wormholes Quagsire Lombre Floatzel Stunfisk Barbaracle Suicune (requires Entei and Raikou) Lugia (Ultra Moon only) Latias (Ultra Moon only) Latios (Ultra Sun only) Kyogre (Ultra Moon only) Uxie Mesprit Azelf Kyurem (requires Reshiram and Zekrom) Pokemon Ultra Sun and Moon Green Wormholes Nuzleaf Grumpig Drapion Audino Heliolisk Mewtwo Raikou (Ultra Sun only) Entei (Ultra Moon only) Dialga (Ultra Sun only) Cobalion Terrakion Virizion Reshiram (Ultra Sun only) Zekrom (Ultra Moon only) Xerneas (Ultra Sun only) Pokemon Ultra Sun and Moon Red Wormholes Swellow Altaria Yanmega Sigilyph Swanna Articuno Zapdos Moltres Ho-Oh (Ultra Sun only) Rayquaza (Requires Kyogre and Groudon) Cresselia Tornadus (Ultra Sun only) Thundurus (Ultra Moon only) Landorus (Requires Tornadus and Thundurus) Yveltal (Ultra Moon only) Pokemon Ultra Sun and Moon Yellow Wormholes Magcargo Medicham Hippowdon Abomasnow Crustle Regirock Regice Registeel Groudon (Ultra Sun only) Palkia (Ultra Moon only) Heatran (Ultra Sun only) Regigigas (Ultra Moon only) Giratina (Requires Dialga and Palkia) This marks the end of our complete Pokemon Ultra Wormholes guide, but make sure to hit up any of our other guides on the game, including how to find Ditto, as well as how to find Team Rainbow Rocket. While in Pokémon Sun & Moon you could travel to one area of Ultra Space, Pokémon Ultra Sun & Ultra Moon has changed it up by allowing you to ride on Solgaleo or Lunala to fully explore various areas in Ultra Space. This unlocks after you have gone through the Ultra Wormhole to go to Ultra Megalopolis and allows for you to go to various different areas to find different Pokémon, including Legendary Pokémon! When you first go to Ultra Space, you will fly on Lunala in Ultra Sun or Solgaleo in Ultra Moon, but you can change between the two at will in Ultra Megalopolis. The controls are also initially purely motion, but you can switch to the Circle Pad in GAME FREAK's building in Heahea City. Flying through Ultra Space requires you to collect various orange orbs of energy. These will increase the speed of your Pokémon and allow it to travel further distances. The more you get the better, as their appearances are very frontloaded, being very rare as you progress. In addition to the wormholes, you will also see blue balls of electricity. If you hit these, then you will slow down and lose some energy. With smaller energy, you struggle to escape the gravity of the wormholes and eventually get dragged into the next one. Upon its introduction in Pokémon Sun and Moon, Ultra Space only granted the player access to Nihilego's world. However, with the release of Ultra Sun and Ultra Moon, Ultra Space greatly expanded, and many new worlds and features became available. In this guide, you will learn everything you need to know about Ultra Space, from the legendary Pokémon available to the odds of finding a shiny Pokémon. Where to Start The portal that allows the player to enter Ultra Space can be found at the Altar of the Sunne (Ultra Sun) or the Altar of the Moone (Ultra Moon), which can be directly accessed through the Ride Pager by flying to the northern area of Ancient Poni Path. All areas that will be discussed in this guide can only be accessed through this portal. Before you begin, it is recommended you consider the following: You can encounter numerous legendary Pokémon, shiny Pokémon, and even Ultra Beasts, so being prepared is important. The Pokémon you encounter and its shiny value are determined from the moment you step into a wormhole, so soft resetting for a different Pokémon or for a shiny Pokémon will not work. This does not apply to legendary Pokémon and Ultra Beasts, which are normal stationary encounters, so you are able to soft reset your game to find shinies. The odds for these Pokémon to be shiny are the same as the base shiny odds in the games: 1/4096. If you have the Shiny Charm, your odds become 3/4096. All other aspects of the Pokémon are determined upon encounter and thus can be soft reset for. This includes nature, IVs, and whether or not the Pokémon will drop an item after battle. The item itself is predetermined, so you cannot soft reset for a different item. The item drop mechanic does not apply to legendary Pokémon and Ultra Beasts. Every Pokémon captured in Ultra Space will have at least three perfect IVs of 31 in random stats. Changing Controls The default method for traveling through the Ultra Wormhole is with tilt controls, but this can be changed to D-pad controls after the first run by talking to the Aether Foundation Employee in the Game Freak office in Heahea City. It is generally recommended to use the D-pad for controls, as it eases overall control. Ultra Warp Ride Once you've entered the portal on either Solgaleo or Lunala, you will begin to see many orange energy orbs appear in the wormhole. The more of these orbs you collect, the faster your legendary will travel. However, hitting any of the blue energy orbs will cause your legendary to slow down and be more susceptible to being pulled into a wormhole. You can change whether you ride on Solgaleo or Lunala by going to Ultra Megalopolis and talking to Soliera (Ultra Sun) or Zossie (Ultra Moon). If you're going for distance, Solgaleo is preferred over Lunala, as Lunala's wings can obstruct visibility and increase susceptibility to hitting blue energy orbs. Wormholes Soon, you may begin to notice the many different colors of wormholes in Ultra Space. Each one leads to a different location depending on its color. As you travel farther, you may discover some wormholes with light rings around them, which raise your chances of encountering legendaries and shinies within them. Collect the orange energy orbs while avoiding as many blue energy orbs as possible to accumulate speed over time, reach much farther distances, and find rare Pokémon. Wormhole Types The chances of finding different wormhole types in Ultra Space can be found in the chart below. Distance is the only factor used to determine the odds of each type of wormhole appearing. The wormhole type affects the odds of encountering a shiny within that wormhole, and also determines which Ultra Beast's world will appear within a white wormhole. In this guide, each wormhole type will be numbered. Type 1 = No Rings. Type 2 = One Ring. Type 3 = Two Rings. Type 4 = Two Rings and a vivid flower-like pattern. They will always contain a legendary Pokémon unless the player has captured or defeated all legendaries found in the color of the wormhole. In Type 1 wormholes, the chance of encountering a shiny Pokémon is always 1%, regardless of the distance traveled. Type 4 wormholes will normally contain legendary Pokémon, for which the odds do not apply, but if the player has defeated legendary Pokémon in the color of wormhole, they are able to find non-legendary Pokémon, for which these odds do apply. Some of the Pokémon require the player using a specific game or having a certain Pokémon in their party, which can be found to the right of the Pokémon's name. Before encountering a legendary, a silhouette of the Pokémon will appear at the far end of the Ultra Space Wilds. Like the regular Pokémon, all legendary Pokémon and Ultra Beasts are encountered at Level 60. Each legendary Pokémon can only be caught once, while Ultra Beasts and normal Pokémon can be caught unlimited times. The lengthy cutscene preceding a battle with each Ultra Beast can be skipped after you have defeated it or captured it once. The Ho-Oh that can be obtained in Ultra Space has exclusive access to Burn Up, which it cannot get by any other means.
